

SyberWorks announces a new article available in its Media Center: “SCORM/AICC Standards Used in Web-based Learning Management Systems”

Waltham, Massachusetts –April 3, 2006

SyberWorks, Inc., a leader in custom e-Learning Solutions and the Learning Management System (LMS) industry, today announces a new article available in the SyberWorks Online Media Center: “SCORM/AICC Standards Used in Web-based Learning Management Systems.”

Dave Boggs, CEO of SyberWorks, states:

“Web-based LMSs are complex enterprise software applications. Generally, SCORM/AICC compliant Learning Management Systems can use any content developed with a SCORM/AICC compliant authoring tool. This article explains the origins of the SCORM/AICC standards. Knowledge of these standards is particularly valuable for anyone evaluating various LMSs for purchase and implementation into your company's IT enterprise backbone.”

Boggs continues, “A SCORM/AICC compliant Learning Management System is a critical tool for standardizing a company's e-Learning strategy and can allow a company to use already developed course content, which may result in savings on instructional design and course development costs.”

The article is located in the SyberWorks Online Media Center at <http://www.syberworks.com/e-LearningResources.htm>.
